Section 3 Apple harvest

- When responding to the questions in this section, please take into account all of the orchards you operated in 2022 (orchard(s) identified in sections 1 and 2).

EARLY varieties of apples

3a In 2022, did you harvest any early varieties of apples?

Early varieties = All varieties of apples that come to maturity or are produced before the Paulared variety

- ☐ Yes
☐ No → Go to question 4a

3b Indicate the total production of early varieties of apples.

1 bushel = 42 pounds or
19.05 kilograms

bushels

3c In the following table, indicate the information concerning the distribution of early varieties of apples harvested, according to the type of market.

If some information is unavailable, provide an estimate that is as accurate as possible.

The amount received corresponds to the money that you, as a producer, actually received from the sale of your harvest.

In cases of sales where the buyer withholds or deducts an amount, the amount received corresponds to the net amount paid by the buyer. The amounts withheld or deducted by the buyer must never be added to the amount received.

In the case of sales that were directly concluded with consumers or retailers, the amount received corresponds to the money that you actually received as a result of these transactions.

You must report the volume of apples sold (graded and ungraded) to packers and grower-packers as well as the proceeds of the sale.

	Quantity distributed (bushels)	Amount received ($)
